CITY FIGHT GROWING WARM

Contest for Sergeant Creates Greatest Interest and Brings Flood of Money.

Much activity will be displayed this week by candidates having opposition for both State and municipal offices. Judge Mann will speak in Loudoun to-morrow, Mr. Tucker being billed to appear at Amherst Courthouse, where the famous '95 convention, about which there has been so much dispute, was held. On that occasion Mr. Tucker withdrew from the congressional race. Congressman Flood having received the nomination. It is claimed and conceded that Mr. Tucker is strong in Amherst, the Mann people freely admitting that the Valley candidate will carry the county.

Colonel Robert Cattell will be at Loudoun court to-morrow. He will spend the remainder of the week in the First and Eighth Congressional Districts.

The appointments of Colonel Caton and Judge Williams for the week have not been given out, though they will both be actively engaged on the stump.

Commissioners Keiser and J. Thompson Brown, who are contesting for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture and Immigration, are making but few speeches. Indeed, they may be said to have determined upon a burlesque campaign rather than an oratorical campaign.

The list of entries for State offices and United States Senator will close at noon to-morrow. Following are incumbents, who will in all probability have no opposition at the primary:

On August 5: Senator John W. Daniel, of Lynchburg; Secretary of the Commonwealth D. Q. Eggleston, of Charlottesville; Treasurer Adam L. Taylor, of Rockbridge; and Superintendent of Public Instruction Joseph D. Eggleston, Jr., of Prince Edward.

All those who are aspiring to positions to be filled at the State primary have paid their fees to the State chairman, although the list will not actually close until to-morrow noon.

List of Candidates.
The full list of candidates who have paid their fees to Mr. Elyson, thus entitling them to have their names appear on the official ballot, is:

For United States Senator—John W. Daniel, of Lynchburg.

For Governor—William Hodges Mann, of Nottoway, and H. St. George Tucker, of Rockbridge.

Lieutenant Governor—J. Taylor Elyson, of Richmond, and James R. Caton, of Alexandria.

For Attorney-General—Robert Cattell, of Lexington, and Samuel W. Williams, of Wythe.

Treasurer—Asher W. Harnan, Jr., of Rockbridge.

For Commissioner of Agriculture—J. Thompson Brown, of Bedford, and George W. Keiser, of Augusta.

For Secretary of the Commonwealth—David C. Eggleston, of Charlottesville.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction—Joseph D. Eggleston, Jr., of Prince Edward.

The names of those candidates who up to noon to-morrow shall be found to have no opposition will not appear upon the ticket, and the chairman will officially declare them the nominees. The State Committee will not meet again until after the August primary.

Warm Times in the City.
The fight for municipal offices in this city promises to be vigorous from now until the end of the struggle. Especially will this be true concerning the race for City Sergeant, which is growing warmer with each passing day.

The primary will be held on June 21, only ten days being left in which to complete the canvass among the voters. Judging by recent developments, the attacks promised on the official record of Sergeant Smith will not be forthcoming, he having boldly declared in the presence of his competitors at the Henry Clay Club on Friday night that he was ready to make his defense. In the event of criticism concerning his official life, Mr. Smith, Satterfield and John B. Fenn, before the latter retired from the contest, who intimated strongly that they had cards up their sleeves for the incumbent, which they would throw down the first time they met him in a public meeting.

With spectacular utterances on the stump that were probably eliminated, interest will now center in the betting and in the various lines of activity among the candidates. More money was placed yesterday on the race for Sergeant, though so far as could be ascertained, no bets were laid on any of the other contests.

There will be a number of meetings during the coming week. The first one being scheduled for tomorrow to-morrow night. The City Committee will meet next Wednesday night to appoint the judges and clerks to conduct the primary.

Dr. Clifton M. Miller has returned to the city from Atlantic City.

Examinations having been completed in all departments of college work, the next few days will be taken up in celebration incident to the closing of the session of 1908-1909. Rev. Cornelius Woolfkin, of Rochester, N. Y., will deliver the commencement sermon in the college chapel at 5:15 o'clock to-night, and to-morrow night the graduates of 1909 will celebrate class day.

The annual meeting of the board of trustees will be held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, and at 2 o'clock of the same day the alumni dinner will be given at Murphy's Hotel, when reunions of the classes of 1859, 1864, 1869, 1874, 1879, 1884, 1889, 1894, 1899, will be held. The address before the Society of Alumni and the public, and the presentation of a portrait of Tiberius Gracchus Jones, second president of Richmond College, are scheduled for Tuesday night.

An innovation of the closing exercises on Wednesday morning will be the academic procession. This feature has never been added to the commencement exercises of any Southern institution. The line of march will be within the college grounds along the sides of Franklin, Ryland and Grace Streets to the college chapel, where the honorary and academic degrees will be conferred.

The session will close Wednesday night, when Dr. P. S. Henson, of Boston, Mass., who enjoys the distinction of having been the first matriculate at the college, will deliver the commencement address. This will be followed by the awarding of medals and announcements of the winners of scholastic honors.

ROSEWOOD SOLD.
Bought by T. C. Williams and S. T. Morgan for $25,000.

Rosewood, the property on Hermitage Road, three miles from the city, was sold at public auction yesterday to T. C. Williams and Samuel T. Morgan for $25,000. The tract contains the handsome grove of oak trees to be found nowhere around Richmond. It has often been said that the late Mayor Lewis Ginter endeavored to buy the property, reports at the time having it that he offered $55,000. Later, however, he bought at Lakeside, Rosewood belongs to the heirs of Mrs. Rosina Young Mordcaul.

JEFFERSON CLUB IN NEW QUARTERS

Members to Occupy Handsome Building During Latter Part of Month.

Completing every feature of the most up-to-date social organization, the new home of the Jefferson Club, at Allen Avenue and Grace Street, will be opened to the members during the latter part of the month, the exact date to be determined later. The cost of the structure, which is one of the handsomest of its kind in the South, was approximately $110,000. As an ornament to the growing West End, it probably surpasses anything in a section noted for the beauty of its architecture. The new building, which is three stories high, and is equipped with every comfort and convenience to be found in a modern club to-day.

Fifteen Years Old.
The Jefferson Club was formed nearly fifteen years ago, and was the outgrowth of the Jefferson Literary and Social Circle and the Mercantile Club. The membership now exceeds the 200 mark.

When the property formerly occupied by the club at 808 East Marshall Street was acquired by the city for the construction of the new High School, temporary quarters were secured at 400 East Clay Street, from which the organization will move just as soon as the new building is ready for occupancy.

There are three stories besides the basement. In the basement there is a swimming pool, shower baths, bowling alley and gymnasium. The main floor is divided into reception halls, parlors, billiard-room, private dining-rooms and library, so constructed and equipped that the establishment compares much of the best in the city.

The new building committee consists of Joseph L. Levy, chairman; Leon Wallerstein, H. S. Binswanger, Barney Bowman, I. H. Kaufman, Myer H. Kirsch, Ralph Levy, S. Bendheim, B. S. Hesburg, Dr. C. G. Leubner, Leon M. Nelson, and Samuel Wallerstein. There will be no special exercises at the opening of the new building, although invitations will be issued to the families of all members. The Jefferson Club is a very real and useful organization, and has grown from small gathering, and in a social and business way takes a prominent place with the other clubs in the city.

GOES TO SAVANNAH.
Deputy Marshal Leaves for Georgia with Man Arrested in Petersburg.

Deputy United States Marshal Murphy will leave for Savannah, Ga., to-night with John Gary Hatfield, colored, alleged to be wanted there for a violation of the interstate commerce laws. Hatfield was arrested during the recent port celebration in Petersburg on suspicion of being a pickpocket. He is alleged to have used a railroad pass found in his possession, and it was after the recovery of this that the authorities in Georgia were notified. The case of pocket-picking was never made out. The negro will not be returned to Virginia, but will be released or punished according to the verdict of the Federal courts.

STEAM ROLLER FRIGHTENS HORSE.
Mrs. John R. Tyree Thrown Out of Buggy and Seriously Injured in Accident.

Frightened by the blowing of a whistle on a steam roller, which had drawn up at the corner of Chaffin and Randolph Streets, the horse of Mrs. John R. Tyree, of 1519 Floyd Avenue, who was out driving yesterday afternoon, dashed away and collided with an ice wagon, overturning the buggy and throwing Mrs. Tyree out, rendering her unconscious and seriously injuring her. She was picked up, bleeding and senseless, and was hurried into a nearby drug-store, where the aid of the city ambulance was called. She was treated temporarily by Dr. Davis, and was then taken home in a carriage, and there treated by the family physician, Dr. J. T. Goring. Mrs. Tyree was severely bruised, but no bones were broken. The only fear now is that there may be internal injuries.

Mrs. Tyree was driving out Randolph Street when she encountered the steam roller. The engineer blew his whistle according to the victim and bystanders who witnessed the accident, and the horse immediately became frightened. The buggy was badly damaged, but the horse escaped unscathed. It is said the man in charge of the steam roller was not responsible for the accident.

DOUGLAS GORDON COUNSEL FOR BUILDERS' EXCHANGE.
W. Douglas Gordon, who has been retained as counsel for the Builders' Exchange of Richmond, will also be the permanent secretary of the organization. The exchange headquarters will be in the Mutual Building. The election of Mr. Gordon was due largely to the fact that he is familiar with the building situation in Richmond. Mr. Gordon announced yesterday that he would accept.

Court Opens in Norfolk.
Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., of the United States District Court, will leave this afternoon for Norfolk, where the adjourned term of the criminal docket will be called to-morrow morning. The term was postponed in May in order that Judge Waddill might sit at the terms of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in this city and in Asheville, N. C.

Regulation Honored.
Governor Swanson yesterday honored a regulation from the Governor of Pennsylvania, who is wanted in Philadelphia for alleged assault. Neld is now in Roanoke, and the Pennsylvania officials will go there to get him. The case seems to be complicated, as there is much conflict over the question as to whether the alleged assault was committed by Neld or some other person.

Seized Woman in Street as She Endeavors to Kill Her Enemy.
After having sworn, it is alleged, that she would take the life of Ida Evans if the latter did not kill her, Annie Taylor, colored, set upon Ida last night on Sixth Street, between Broad and Marshall, and cut her so severely under the left arm that a police officer, fearing the wounded woman would die before the city ambulance could arrive, secured a cot from the Seventh Street Armory, and, with the aid of four men, carried her to the Virginia Hospital, where the dangerous slash was sewed up and her life probably saved.

Had it not been for the prompt interference of "Dutch" Revells, of the pitching staff of the local team, it is probable that the Taylor woman would have been killed, when Ida Evans ran at her a second time with the open knife, the stalwart pitcher caught hold of her and threw her into the middle of the street.

Picking her up, the assailant dashed off down Marshall Street, and was gone in a trice. The injured woman lay moaning in the street. Bystanders picked her up and called to the police. Two officers responded. They carried her into a store, and summoned the city ambulance. But the ambulance was out on another call and could not be reached. In the meanwhile the woman was in danger of bleeding to death, and it was then that the officers hastened to the armory and got the cot. They placed the woman on the pallet, and four men hurried her to the hospital. She was afterwards taken by Dr. Cosby to the City Hospital. A warrant was afterwards sworn out for the arrest of Annie Taylor.

"PAWNEE BILL" FINED.
Four Go to Jail for Stealing. One Sent to Grand Jury and Others Are Fined.

Lee Baskerville and Alexander Jones (colored) were sent to jail for four months each from the Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of stealing a basket of vegetables from Moses Reed.

William Hardy (colored), charged with having assaulted B. Dandridge, was sent on to the grand jury.

Philip Johnson and Adaline Branch (colored) got four months each for having stolen a watch from William Thomas.

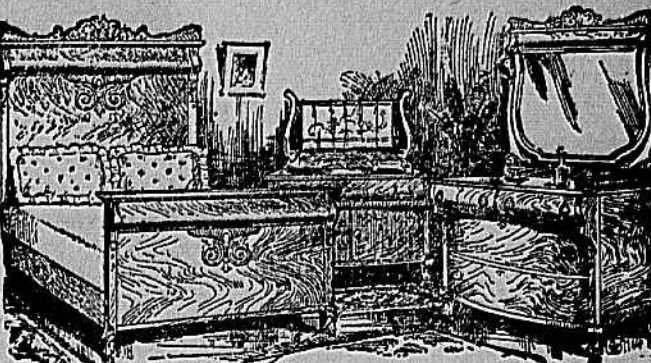

Pawnee Bill—not the original Pawnee, but a colored denizen of Richmond—was fined $25 and placed under $100 security for six months for having cursed and abused W. M. Minkie and assaulted an officer when the latter attempted to arrest him.

Wiley Lane and E. J. Franklin, colored contractors, were fined $5 each for alleged careless work on a building on North Eighteenth Street.

To Spend Summer Abroad.

PLUNGE IN DARK MAY PROVE FATAL

Thomas Vaden Trips and Falls Head Forward Into Cellar of Drug Store.

Attracted by the cries of his playmates, mingled with the groans of Thomas Vaden, fifteen years old, of 323 South Third Street, London L. Wightman, a drug clerk at Shields Pharmacy, on the corner of Third and Main Streets, rushed into the cellar at 9 o'clock yesterday morning to find the unconscious youth suffering from a severe wound on the back of his head.

While on his way out of a rear room in the store, Vaden tripped and fell ten feet down a flight of stairs to the dark cellar below. Wightman took the boy in his arms, and had no sooner reached the floor above than he realized that the boy was in a desperate condition, although Vaden's condition is regarded as extremely critical.

He remained unconscious for several hours after the accident.

Henry H. Vaden, father of the victim, was at once notified of the boy's condition, and was at the hospital during the operation. Neither of the boys present can tell how young Vaden happened to trip.

It is said to have been two feet from the cellar entrance when he fell head forward. Wightman was not an eye-witness.

Permits for Tenements.
Building Inspector Beck yesterday issued the following permits:

M. B. Fones, to erect a detached two-story frame dwelling on the east side of Twenty-second Street, between M and N Streets; $1,375.

J. H. Chappell, to erect a two-story brick tenement for five dwellings on the west side of St. James Street, between Federal and Court Streets; $7,000.

Lacy F. Davenport, to erect a two-story brick tenement for three dwellings on the north side of Broad Street, between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Streets; $8,000.
